Indigo, Crystal & Rainbow Children

Following the last newsletter I had a lot of requests for further information on the Crystal and Rainbow children so I've scouted around and come up with the following, some of which maybe conflicts with what I originally wrote. I believe the reason for this is there isn't a lot of information available on either of these types but it is slowly starting to filter through.

What I would first say about the Indigo children and to some extent the Crystals, is they are frequently the children being labelled as ADD/ADHD or even autistic. What I believe this indicates is not that there is a rising incidence of the problem, but a rising increase in the number of children who just don't fit the school system. These are different children, they learn differently, and have a whole different life purpose and outlook.

If you are a "normal family" with no experience of esoteric ideas, or perhaps even strongly committed to a church, some of what we are talking about can be challenging. However, you will know when you read the information here if you have one of these special children in your family. We all need them to change our world and sometimes having a different perception of why they don't fit can be a big help when seeking support for them.

School can be a major problem. Previous generations have been able to cut off from the fact they can't relate to certain things at school and were able to do it anyway - these children can't. So they get into trouble for not towing the line, not fitting in and for speaking their truth. They have so much to say, they are so evolved - highly developed beings in children's bodies - and this is really hard for them. They are also aware of their life purpose and are ready to go out and do it - however, society says they must go to school and so they are medicated to fit in!!

The Indigos are seen as the warrior children; here to fix the world, to change the political system and care for the environment. Because of their frustration around what has been done to the planet and the lack of acceptance of their differences, they can be angry children. The one thing they cannot tolerate is lack of integrity and they don't suffer fools. These children need to live with integrity and respect. As well as anger, they may also present in the clinic as sad, depressed or anxious - suppressed anger.

The Crystal children, however, are beings of great love and forgiveness, usually born to Indigo parents. They are calm, caring, cuddly, and usually clairvoyant and telepathic. These children follow the Indigo trailblazers into a safer, more secure world. They may choose to communicate through a combination of telepathy, sign language or sounds, and therefore are seen as having language problems or even autism. Frequently they will just start talking in complete sentences at 2, 3 or even 4 years old.

The Rainbow children are just beginning to incarnate now, often with crystal parents. These children have never been on the earth before, so it's all new and interesting. They also have no karma and nothing to learn, and therefore don't choose dysfunctional families to grow up in - they are fully evolved masters in small bodies! These are the babies who look at you and fill you with awe and love. I have seen a few in the clinic and with hindsight recognize their amazing crystal mum's as being the ones who have such delight and comfort in the whole experience of mothering.

In terms of caring for any of these children, I would give the following suggestions.

- Be aware they are extremely sensitive to the environment they live in and the emotional energy around them.
- Give them lots of support and one-on-one attention. One child in Doreen Virtue's work says "yes, we are attention deficit disordered (ADD) - we don't get enough attention"! We live in a busy world but we need to make time to really connect with our kids, not just fill their lives with what we think they need.
- These children respond best when treated with maturity, respect and honesty - they often resonate on an adult level.
- They may find it hard to make friends because they are different, and they need to be supported through this, and encouraged to find friends through outside activities.
- They need to be told they're not weird or freaky, but different and special.
- They need to be fed diets free of sugar, food colorings, and preservatives, and they may want to be vegetarian.
- They will be affected by vaccination, but there are ways around this if you feel you have to vaccinate.
- They will avoid conventional medicine when they can, so will be averse to Panadol, antibiotics, etc, but will

Esoteric Remedies

People come with many different issues to be addressed by homeopathy, and more and more frequently are coming with issues I see as relating to their spiritual or life path.

In 1994 I was lucky enough to come across the work of a group of homeopaths who explore remedies through meditation. These remedies are strongly connected to spiritual issues like cutting karma and ancestral ties, past life issues, blocked chakras and energy, disconnection from source, negative entities, and so on. I have been working extensively with these beautiful remedies for some years now, and use them as much for physical problems as for the spiritual challenges people face.

Apple Tree Helps to align the spiritual with the physical where the body is not doing what the spirit wants! Heals the aura following trauma or great shock (including vaccination), particularly where the person does not understand what has happened.. A great remedy for children. Enables fearful children to feel safe, where they are blocked off from joy. Helps with troubled sleep. Blockage in the sacral centre with congestion in the physical organs.

Goldfish (yes really!) For people who feel trapped, dominated and surrounded by rules. Helps free the spirit, allowing expression through the throat chakra. Children dealing with parents' karma and mistakes, perhaps through illness or deformity. May appear disconnected, such as in autism or developmental problems.

Moldavite was formed when a meteorite hit the earth producing a dark green, glass-like crystal. The keynote of this remedy is Truth. Helps with spiritual unfoldment, and teaches us to be more powerful and disciplined. It allows us to discern the truth and remove fear. It is one of the purest remedies for spiritual protection.

Purple (the color) The highest vibration of all color remedies, purple is a remedy of transformation. Helps break down resistance and allows you to contact your spiritual light. Upturns and uproots old patterns.

Sea Salt (Winchelsea) Links heart, brow, sacral and throat centres. Releases deep pain and grief which holds back spiritual progression. Touches pathology and karma from Atlantis and Lemuria. Releases ancestral karma, freeing kidney energy and returning joy to the spleen. Working through the throat it allows our words to heal.

GERALDTON CLINIC

I regret I've had to reschedule the next clinic in Geraldton to 18 -20 May 2006, due to a variety of unforeseen circumstances!.

As these visits book up quickly, please contact me as soon as possible for appointments.

CLINIC NOTES

Allergy Testing

Although it is not necessary to know what someone is allergic to for homeopathy to work, it is helpful in avoiding the allergen to reduce symptoms in early treatment. While I have used dowsing over the years to determine allergies in some people, in order to do this even more effectively, I have just completed Touch For Health 1 (kinesiology). Kinesiology uses muscle testing to ask the body which substances are allergens. It can be used for many other issues as well.

Holiday - April 2006

I will be away in the UK for the month of April, returning to work at the beginning of May. Sally Moore will locum for me. She will be in the clinic on Wednesday and Friday mornings, and available for urgent calls outside of these hours. Sue will be here on Mondays for appointments, remedies, etc.

I expect to come back with new inspiration from my college and colleagues in the UK, plus rested and revitalised to give my best to you and your family.

Indigo, Crystal & Rainbow Children

- They may see and talk to angels and spirits, hear messages from God, and see auras - this is completely normal - and many children do this until it is squashed out of them by conventional schooling. Please encourage these gifts.
- The crystal children especially love rocks and crystals, and adore animals and nature. Nurture this passion for their wellbeing and our future.
- Support groups for these children will start to appear, run by Indigo's and lightworkers in general. Seek out these groups and let your child find the understanding they need.

I hope to collect more information on these children and work on remedy groups which suit them best. While I don't expect to see many Rainbow children for treatment, except perhaps to organise homeopathic immunisation programs, I know I will see them when their parents and siblings come into the clinic.

Not only do I always feel blessed to be a homeopath, at this point in time, I feel blessed to be able to help so many of these beautiful children in the clinic. Let's all work together to nurture these children and make their development happy and easy for the future of all of us.
